Creehan Wraps Successful Debut At Sundance Festival

Destin, Florida (January 28, 2008) - When the final curtain fell at the 2008 Sundance Film Festival, the vote was unanimous: Celebrity Chef Tim Creehan's gourmet stylings were a smashing success. As the official spokesman for the DCS by Fisher & Paykel appliances display, Creehan fronted much of the food related festivities at the Gibson Guitar, Entertainment Tonight, & Getty Images Hospitality Lodge, where Tinsel town's elite dropped by for some swag, schmoozing, and impromptu jam sessions. A staggering barrage of actors, actresses, musicians, and other notables filed in for photo ops, dined on DCS grilled delectables, and carted home Creehan's cookbooks.

Celebs pressing palms with Creehan include Matthew Broderick, Mischa Barton, John Legend, Danny Glover, Dennis and Randy Quaid, Mena Suvari, Rachael Taylor, Brian Cox, Velvet Revolver's Matt Sorum and Dave Kushner, Lukas Haas, Alan Alda, Elizabeth Shue, Saliva's Jonathan Montoya, Nick Stahl, Jacqueline Bisset, Alan Rickman, Lauren Graham, Crispin Glover, Virginia Madsen, Train's Patrick Monahan, L.A. Clipper Shaun Livingston, George Lopez, Deidre Hall, Anthrax's Scott Ian, Jack Black, Stanley Tucci, and Tom Arnold. Music heated up the atmosphere as Legend, Monahan, Sorum, Kushner, and various other artists let loose with improvised performances at the Gibson Guitar display. At one point, Arnold took to the stage and broke into a rousing rendition of 'Johnny B. Goode' for the Entertainment Tonight cameras.

Snow kept the Park City party on ice, but Creehan's Grill Plus'd edibles raised temperatures and tastebuds, drawing predictably rave reviews and reflecting the chef's typically unpredictable style. Popular dishes included Buffalo and Beef Ribeye Wraps, Smoked Tomato Soup, Rosemary Lemon Rack of Lamb, and a Lamb, Rice, & Bleu Cheese Stew, which proved the sleeper hit of the event. Sponsors New Zealand Lamb, Maverick Ranch, and DCS by Fisher & Paykel enjoyed high profile exposure throughout, as Getty Images photogs snapped gigabytes of pictures of the Emerald Coast Culinarian feeding the famous.

A Taste Magazine article will feature Creehan and his five day stint representing DCS at Sundance. As a sequel, the jet set chef returns to the home shores of Destin, Florida, where Creehan's Event Center will serve as host venue for the ZYR Vodka Reception and Four Course Wine Dinner. The event features Dinner: Impossible and Next Food Network Stars dishing up a variety of vodka infused dishes, as well as a special appearance by President of ZYR Vodka David Katz.
